SCHOOLS END AFTER A SUCCESSFUL TERM

The Monessen schools are closed; one more school year's work has been completed and teacher and pupil once more are at liberty to come and go at will.

The commencement exercises of last Wednesday evening practically ended the school work, although the formal closing did not take place until Thursday morning when, at the ring of the bell all assembled in their respective rooms, put away their books and received their promotions for the coming season.

Prof. H.E. Gress, the principal, is very much gratified at the success made in the schools along general lines during the school term just closed, stating that the work and progress in all departments was all that could possibly be expected, and in some instances the advance made was beyond the average.

During the entire term the attendance was exceptionally regular with the truancy question well in hand. In fact there was but little truancy attempted during the entire year and where it did occur it was so promptly looked after that the interruption in the school work was unnoticeable.

The general health conditions in all sections was good, there being no epidemics of any sort and very few pupils were detained at home by sickness any material length of of time.

Notwithstanding that a large percentage of the enrollment at the various buildings is what is commonly referred to as "foreigners," the general progress of the schools is not retarded to any noticeable degree, as they take up the work very readily in the lower grades and their progress after getting the rudiments is exceptionally rapid, they in many instances seeming to make greater effort to advance than do our own American children, but that is no more than natural as they eagerly seek our education and they are urged to it by the parents, especially of the higher classes.

But all-in-all the school year just finished has been probably the most successful the town has ever had, and directors, principals, teachers and pupils feel deeply gratified with the results.

CATHOLICS DEFEAT THE BAPTIST TEAM

The Catholics kept up their good work of last Thursday and with Dan Ryan twirling for them again took the Baptists into camp by a score of 9-3. A full nine innings were played, the first game of the season that has gone the limit. The Catholics bunched hits in the second and sixth innings and scored their nine runs. In the fifth the Baptists scored 3 runs on as many hits. They were often able to get men on bases but Ryan would then tighten up and no scores would be the result. Joe O'toole featured the game with several sensational stops and throws. One stop of a grass cutter over second cut off a hit and saved two runs. Lindsay played a good game at short for the Baptists.

We think it almost unnecessary at this late day to tell you that we are leaders in this particular work.

For the painless extraction of teeth we have the best gas apparatus it is possible to have—also the very latest local anesthetic. We have the latest methods—keep abreast of the times But we advise you to save your teeth.

APPEARANCES OF ACTIVITY INDICATE IMMEDIATE START ON THIRD STREET VIADUCT

Material is fast arriving for the construction of the Third street viaduct. About forty cars of lumber have already been hauled to the scene of action for the false work and engineers are at work locating the big bridge which is soon to become a reality.

The contract is in the hands of Nicola and Company of Pittsburgh one of the best bridge contracting firms in the country, and judging by the activity already manifested the town will soon enjoy this monster improvement. It is just a little more than a year since the matter was first introduced into the Board of Trade. At the meeting following it was taken up in council and step by step progress was made until the contract was let. This is one of the greatest improvements the town will have as a direct effort of the Board of Trade. The contracting firm is going at the work in a manner which speaks complimentary for the earnestness of the concern.

Some difficulty is being experienced in getting places to store the material. All the vacant lots and portions of the streets in the vicinity are already occupied and premiums are being asked for the remaining lots. One party refused $50.00 for the use of his lot for temporary storage. Property owners in the vicinity of the improvement should lend a helping hand to further the work and thus bring to the town at an early date a structure that will be a great benefit to every person.

VERDICT FOR $11,000 RENDERED IN THE MORRISON DAMAGE SUIT

The damage suit of Mrs. Margaret Morrison against the Page Woven Wire Fence Co., of Monessen on account of the death of her husband, David Morrison came up in Greensburg court last week, taking up Wednesday and Friday and a part of Saturday, and came to an end by the jury rendering a verdict in favor of the plaintiff for $11,000, the suit having been brought for $30,000.

It will be remembered that David Morrison was a carpenter in the employ of the Page company and in the neighborhood of two years ago lost his life, being struck by some part of a crane which broke. It is stated that the company have asked for a new trial and in case of refusal an appeal will be taken to a higher court.

Ministers to go to Work

The ministers of Charleroi are going to take a hand at physical culture or something like that—oh yes, it's hatchet and saw artists; that's it. They're to take an active hand in helping to built the large tabernacle for the big Sunday School convention to be held about the 20th. They're going to put the board seats together in the meeting tent, and do it all themselves, too.

Court Has Nothing to Do

At Waynesburg, the county seat of Greene county, criminal court opens today but judges, juries or lawyers will not be overly busy as the jail has not held a prisoner since the criminal court week in March. My, oh my! That isn't the way it is over in Westmoreland, Washington or Fayette.

BIG COMMISSION HOUSE WILL SOON BE STARTED

The big building which will be erected on Donner avenue near Eighth street by DeLaney & Company, McKeesport, commission merchants, will soon be started. The foundation, it is understood, will be started within the next few days and the structure is to be completed by late fall.

This will not only be one of the largest commission houses outside of Pittsburgh in the valley, but the building will be four stories high and will be built of structural steel and will be the first all steel building in the town. It will be a giant in strength and will be absolutely fire proof even to the joists and window frames which will be of steel.

The exterior will be of brick and it will be the largest building in town covering two lots each of which is 22 x100 feet. When completed all kinds of commission merchandise will be handled by the wholesale and a stock will be carried sufficient to supply the needs of every town in the upper Monongahela valley.

P. & L. E. TO BE OPERATED BY PHONE SYSTEM

In every phase of modern business and commercial life, the telephone is becoming more and more a vital factor, and in no way is this fact evidenced more plainly than in the rapid strides made in the introduction of the telephone in the field of train dispatching. The Pittsburgh and Lake Erie Railroad is the latest of the eastern roads to equip its lines with telephones for this purpose, and to this end has placed and order for the necessary material with the Western Electric Company, the manufacturers of more than ninety per cent of the telephone equipment used on the railroads of the United States. The type of equipment to be installed makes use of the standard Western Electric telephone selector set. A complete power plant for the furnishing of the electric current used for signalling and talking is also to be furnished and consists of a switchboard panel, motors and generators.

All three divisions of the road are to be equipped for telephone train dispatching. These branches which center at Pittsburgh, go to Youngstown, Ohio, a distance of approximately seventy miles, to Connellsville, Pennsylvania, about sitxy miles and to Brownsville, Pennsylvania through Monessen, about fifty-five miles. The dispatcher will be located at Pittsburgh.

The telephone, making possible, as it does, direct personal communication by word of mouth between the dispatcher and the men under him, has the effect of a warm, hearty handclasp every time it is used. A spoken sentence, even when an order, is infinitely more inspiring and impressive than a succession of cold and formal dots and dashes, and it is this feature as much as any other which has made for the success of the telephone as an improver of discipline and increaser of efficiency on railroad systems.

Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Braun have arrived home after attending the Templar Conclave in Pittsburgh. When the big event was over they went to Butler to attend the commencement exercises and be present when a niece was graduated.

The Methodist general conference which met in a Southern city recently did not change the section in the Discipline regarding daily amusements which members are expected to steer clear of and which they do solemnly pledge themselves to do when taking the church vows. This is a great question, but made so by the selfish, self willed people who go to make up the churches of today. True, the temptations are great, but the law of God intends that the temptations shall be great in order to test the sincerity of the subject and prove the fitness to become recoguized as a member of the great Christian Army.

A person who goes into a church knowing the precepts, vows to keep them, live by them and die by them, and then turns deliberately and willfully and does that which is known to be in direct opposition thereto, is not fit to have their name on the Church roll. They are acting the hypocrite —whited sepulchers as it were—and no church organization knowingly permitting such procedure is following the course laid down or the law of God which gave to us model churches and model men to show us what the Church should be and how true Christians should live.

Rev. Herbert S. Johnson, a Boston divine who has made a close study of the subject asserts that commercialism has driven the blush from the check of girlhood His version is that it is out of fashion for women to blush, and guls are not as coy and demure as they used to be. That may be the condition about Boston, Brother Johnson, and no doubt it is, but just take the time to pay a visit to Monessen, give the subject a little deeper study, and we'll show you something about blushing, coy, demure girlhood that will make your hair stand straight up—if you have any.

Do the Republican masses desire Theodore Roosevelt as their candidate? It would seem so on the face of the primary results, considered collectively. But nobody can be at all certain that this is true, because the percentage of Republicans that has gone on record in the matter is so small. The smallness of this vote raises another question that also must occasion grave concern. Of what value are presidential primaries unless they indicate clearly the preference of the party in the matter of a candidae?

Monon. Boys in Minstrel

At the Anton theatre this evening is to be given an all home talent Minstrel by eighteen of Monongahela's most musical and talented young men and before the show the boys and their friends are to give a street parade of no small proportions. The show is to embrace a fine First Part and Olio to be followed with "The New Judge." There are quite a few Monessen folk interested in the outcome of this Minstrel venture who will be present tonight to see how the boys make out, and it's hoped they "make good."

Miss Grace Owens left this morning for California where she will prepare for the Junior-Middler exams for the admission into the Senior class in the fall.

Yesterday the Monessen Slavish Society, accompanied by the Finlander band went to Homestead to participate in a big parade. Next Sunday the Slavish people of Monessen are to have a big parade with quite a number of visiting delegations from neighboring towns and a number of brass bands.

Proprietary Medicines

are usually the result of the wholesale preparation of some mothers' recipe or doctor's prescription which has been found especially successful in relieving the ailments for which it is prepared, and which has stood the test of time.

Such is Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, originally prepared from roots and herbs for females ills by Lydia E. Pinkham of Lynn, Mass. For nearly forty years it has proven a great benefactor to the women of America in relieving female diseases of every nature. Its wonderful success proves its merit.

The Page A.A. traveled to Monongahela Saturday afternoon and trimmed the Liggett's of that place by the one sided score of 11-0. Hogg pitched masterful ball and allowed but three scattered hits. Vaughn, Rivers and Lamey starred at the bat for Page while Savage, Rivers and Lamey played good games in the field. The entire Page team scored a run a piece in the first inning

News Notes of Society

Yesterday afternoon at the home 648 Parkway, Mr. George A. Rogaliner, manager of the New 5 and 10c store, was entertained with a birthday dinner party by his wife and a number of relatives. An excellent repast was served by the hostess in a very charming manner and the guests were royally entertained during their stay. There were present several out of town guests among whom were Mrs. Julia Rogaliner, Miss Eva Rogaliner, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Williams, the Misses Anna and Helen Williams, Leroy Williams and Morris Glomb of Pittsburgh.

Mr. and Mrs. James Hurst of Fallowfield avenue, Charleroi entertained friends Friday evening very cleverly and a most enjoyable time was had in guessing contests, games etc., along with delightful refreshments. There was a jolly company present from Monongahela including Miss Laura Snyder who many Monessen folk remember as having for quite a time served as the efficient chief operator with the Bell Telephone company here.

NEVER ALLOWED TO "INFORM"

Point of Military Etiquette That Is Impressed on Youngsters in the Service.

"No matter how much a second lieutenant in the army may know, he must never presume to 'inform' his superior officers," remarked a captain in one of the organizations of the National Guard of the District of Columbia recently.

"I found that out long ago. Col. O. B. Mitcham, in command of this artillery division, sent me a request for information along certain lines, and I dug out the material and wrote out a letter in reply which I thought was strictly military. I took it down to 'Sergt.' Drew at militia headquarters. Drew has been a post quartermaster sergeant in the islands, and has had more experience in the formality of military correspondence than any one I know of.

"Sergt. Mike looked at it one second and nearly fainted. 'Great Scott,' he gasped, 'you'd be shot at sunrise if you sent that along'

"I had written, 'Sir, I have the honor to inform you, and so forth.'

"It looked good and military to me, but Sergt. Mike Drew, when he had recovered from the shock, wept on my shoulder and said:

"'My boy, don't you know in the army nobody is ever allowed to inform a superior officer? You may have all the information in the world, but don't presume to inform anybody that's even one inch over you. It will get you in bad. Just change that letter so it will read, I have the honor to report.'"

MINCE PIE FINDS CHAMPION

Barring of Delectable Dessert From Female Seminaries Held to Be Libel on Pastry.

Mince pie has endured from generation to generation and is not cast down. It has suffered long from the attacks of critics for whom it is strong meat, but it still is kind to those who love it and whom it loves. It gives and needs strength. We note without despondence the attempt in various New England colleges for girls to give this delectable dish a new bad name and hang it.

"It is ruinous for the complexion," says one preceptress. And another prates of technicalities of digestion. But at good old Wellesley they have mince three times a year "for the girls who cannot go home for the holidays," and there you have the whole case for the libeled pastry in a sentence. Mince pie is the home pie. It spells Thanksgiving and Christmas and a happy New Year and back-to-the-farm and good-for-the-old-folks and all sorts of things that keep together the families in which the nation is great.

Complexions! Why, the country was full of them before any food critic drew the hot air of life. And it will be full of them still when the last foe of mince pie falls under the crust that mother makes. As for the girls' colleges—well, if the higher education is raising a parcel of daughters that cannot stand mince pie, it surely is not bringing up a band of sisters entitled to the ballot.—New York World.

Too Deep.

Joseph E. Widener was showing a group of visitors his father's incomparable picture gallery at Lynwood Hall, the Widener residence of white marble near Philadelphia.

The talk turned to forged Raphaels, and Mr. Widener said:

"There is an American who bought a Raphael in Rome some years ago. The Italian law prohibits the exportation of masterpieces, and the American had the happy idea of getting the Raphael painted over. This was accordingly done. The rare old painting reached New York in the guise of a modern snow scene.

"Then a restorer, under the watchful owner's eye, set to work on it. With a sponge dipped in turpentine he proceeded to rub the snow scene off. He sponged it off readily, but he sponged a bit of the Raphael off, too—and, behold, underneath the Raphael a portrait of Marconi was revealed."

No More Fox Hunts for Him.

Arthur B. Suit, sheriff of Prince Georges county, Md., says he never again will indulge in a fox chase. He always was fond of the sport, but on the occasion of his last chase he had such an unpleasant and exciting experience that he concluded to go after smaller game in the future.

"We had been out but a short while," he related to friends, "before we were on a trail, but it took us some time to dig the fox from his hole. A skunk was the fox's companion and both came out together."

Both animals were killed and taken to Forestville.

"With our party was a dare-devil sort of a fellow," the sheriff said, "and he rode his horse through the village store, the skunk hanging to the animal's side.

"The store was quickly deserted," he added, "and I resolved to participate in no more such hunts."

In the Interests of Art.

"How ugly those railway coaches are!" exclaimed the critical young woman. "Couldn't you adopt some suitable color scheme?"

"Well," replied the railway official; "so long as we are compelled to operate on jim crow lines, maybe it would be neat and appropriate to paint them black and white."

Ther are hundreds of people, young and old, right here in Monessen who are taking medicines for various ailments, who do not even suspect that the kidneys are to blame.

BIJOU

The Bijou Theatre for this evening has a specially good show, one of the pictures featuring G. M. Anderson, who is not only a favorite with Monessen people, but the country over as he always takes the heavy part and his acting is so real and forceful that he has more friends today than any other picture-play actor. One of the attractions for Thursday evening, remember, will be the wedding at 10:15 of a well known young couple, the ceremony to be performed by a local minister. Remember, an exceptionally strong show for this evening. 1t

BASEBALL NOTES

Every member of the Catholic team scored a run.

O'toole played a dandy game at short, making several remarkable stops and throws, cutting off several hits.

"Steve" was there with the big stick again. The way he goes after high and low balls alike reminds one of "Honus" Wagner's stunt.

The Baptists have unearthed a new player, Rev. Wallace, who performed every creditably in right field and at the bat.

A regretable incident occurred during the game when one of the players left the field and started after a spectator who is said to have addressed an insulting remark to him. This is a matter that should be threshed out among the directors. The spectator or spectators who act in an ungentlemanly manner have no right attending a ball game, yet neither has a player who will forget himself so far as to attempt an attack on a spectator.

Picture of Local Athletic Team

In yesterday's Pittsburgh Press there appeared the pictures of the Monessen Athletic Association and several individual cuts of members of the team. The boys are planning to enter the big invitation meet which is to be held by the Press on the 15 of this month at Forbes Field in Pittsburgh. The relay team to be entered will consist of Manown, Eller, Nutt, Lane and Price. The members are practicing daily and are in first class shape. They expect to be counted among the winners.

Dr. Herron Opens New Offices

Dr. Thomas B. Herron has opened up offices in the Conti building at the corner of Third street and Schoonmaker avenue. Dr. Herron is a graduate of the medical school of the Western University of Pennsylvania and has pursued special work along medical lines in New York City. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William Herron of the Westmoreland hotel and is possessed of a wide circle of friends and acquaintances in this city. Besides being very popular among the younger and older sets he is an able and practical physician and should meet with unbounded success in his profession. The present offices are temporary until others can be secured.

Mrs. Ritenour to SPeak

Tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock in the Methodist church in Belle Vernon, Mrs. Kate Ritenour, president of the Fayette county branch of the Women's Christian Temperance Union, will deliver an address which is to be followed by a special musical and literary program. An urgent invitation is extended to all ladies to attend this meeting. Mrs. Ritenour is one of the leading speakers among the W. C. T. U. workers and her address should prove both interesting and instructive.

EDUCATIONAL FEATURES, WITH BUFFALO BILL

There are two reasons why the United States of America is best fitted to lead the movement towards universal peace.

The first is, that the American is the only citizen in the world, who has not lost his ideals; and the second reason is, the American is so far removed from the spites and bickerings of the old world, that perhaps he does not realize their intensity.

History of all ages has shown that important political questions, by which nations are divided and moved, can for the greater part, be decided only by the sword and it is the sword alone, that now keeps the sword in the scabbard.

It is a strange paradox that inspires mankind with a desire for peace, and at the same time inspires him with fervent admiration of all things warlike.

The Buffalo Bill and Pawnee Bill arena, is the only place on the face of the whole earth, where representatives of the armed forces of the world can be seen in International array, giving a distinctive knowledge of the fighting men, or protectors, of the different nations.

American cavalry men, Royal English horse artillery, German Uhlans, French Cuirassers, Italian Bersaglieri, Russian Cossacks, Austrian Chasseurs, Spanish Grenadiers, Royal lancers, and their military impedimentia.

The Far East of the Lerant and the near East of the Adriatic, contributes; Servians, Syrians, Cretans, Crotians, Roumanians, Egyptians, Rosnicks, Tartars, Kurds, Armenians and Persians. A kaliodescopic picture of perfectly drilled soldiery in bewildering racial variety, in mimic warfare and distinctive and collective evolutions, in cohesive harmony.

A conception that is without parallel in the history of amusement presentation, bewildering the eye with its chess like war drills and their tremendous climaxes, and the wrath like phantasies of fearsome warfare which grips one like a vise.

As a result of a big spiritual awakening in Greensburg that towns people came out last Friday night and marched through the streets to show to the world a willingness to walk in God's great procession which stands for truth and righteousness.

A Very Peculiar Accident

At Waynesburg a peculiar accident occurred, as Miss Jessie Johnson was out riding her horse was shot from under her and she was not injured. On the road she met Brady Howard, a friend returning from a hunt. They stopped for a little morning chat, he resting his rifle against the fence. As he took hold of it the trigger caught, the gun was discharged, the bullet entering the animal's neck and it fell dead, the girl making a safe jump from its back.
